

Students of the Month for September 2009

Miranda Behner-Lordstown-Information Tech

This past summer, Miranda achieved what most juniors can only dream about. She became a National Champion at the annual BPA Leadership Conference in Dallas, Texas. She competed in the Fundamentals of Spreadsheet Applications category.

Maureen Martin-Instructor

Peter Brichetto-Lakeview-Business Office Systems

Peter was voted as class president and is very kind and considerate to his teachers and classmates. He is very motivated and works hard to achieve his goals.

Bobbe Isabella-Instructor

Nate Jackson-Southington AFROTC

He is an ideal cadet. He runs the physical fitness program for all AFROTC classes. He stays after school at least once per week to work with students who require extra help.

Col. John Miller-Instructor

Meggan Marino-McDonald-Restaurant Services

Meggan is the Sous Chef in the kitchen. She is a true leader in getting the Cove staff trained and ready to open for the school year. If I am absent, I have confidence in her ability to provide direction in my absence.

Brigitte Gillies-Instructor

(Picture not available)

Katrina Miller

Although Katrina was in an automobile accident, she has not missed school. Her arm is in a brace which represents a problem for a stylist, but she has been equal to the challenge. I am impressed with her perseverance and effort.

Marcia Denamen-Instructor

Heather Pownell-LaBrae-Practical Nursing

She has a great attitude. She is doing extremely well in nursing, showing initiative in the clinical areas and in her school work. She gets along well with everyone

Debbie Rowlands-Instructor

Katie Simmons-Champion-Calculus

She is cheerful, willing to work and always completes her homework. Academics are a priority for her. If she does not understand, she comes for extra help.

Eileen McClellan-Instructor

Leticia Smith-Health Science Academy

She brightens my day. She is enthusiastic, bubbly, respectful and helpful. I can count on her to get things done if I need help in lab. She sets high goals for herself and works to achieve them.

Linda Reader-Instructor

